Dr. Jones Honored, For 25 Years Service

Dr. J. W. Jones, President of Northwest Missouri State College, will terminate 52 years of service to education with his retirement on June 30, 1964. Twenty-five years will have been spent on the campus of NWMSC. Of those twenty-five years on the Maryville campus, Dr. Jones will have served as its loyal and able President eighteen years and seven months. Dr. Jones first came to the NWMSC campus in 1938 as dean of faculty.

Four Principles Guide

Over all these years, Dr. Jones has kept in mind these four things. The last sentence of the College oath which states "We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us." Second, make no little plans, they have not the power to stir men's souls. This is one of the inscriptions in the Truman Library. Third, a statement made by Lincoln who is reported to have said: "I shall study and get ready and maybe someday my chance will come." Fourth, through the teachings of the Master Teacher . . . "I lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my strength."

It all started back in 1912 when Dr. Jones began teaching in the Illinois public schools in a one-room country schoolhouse. In 1924, he left his position as Superintendent of the Melvin, Illinois, public schools to become a tutor at Indiana University. While at the University of Indiana, Dr. Jones received his Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Ph. D. degrees in 1925, 1927, and 1929 respectively.

Dr. Jones continued his climb up the ladder of education to his present position by becoming dean of instruction at Indiana State Teachers College at Terre Haute, Indiana, in 1930. He remained in this capacity at the Indiana College until 1938, at which time he came to NWMSC as dean of faculty on June 1.

Prior to his arrival at NWMSC, Dr. Jones managed to sandwich in two other important events of his life. The most important of these was his marriage to Mildred Winfield on January 1, 1917. The other was his service to his country during World War I serving in the United States Navy. He was commissioned an ensign in the Navy during his brief span of service from 1917 to 1918.

Succeeds Dr. Lamkin

Dr. J. W. Jones became the sixth President of Northwest Missouri State College on December 1, 1945, being elected to that position by the Board of Regents of the College to succeed the retiring President, Uel W. Lamkin. Dr. Jones has served in this capacity since that time.

The achievements accorded President Jones during his term are many. The President stated in an interview with the (Continued on Page Three)

Dennis R. Davidson To Address Graduates

Dennis R. Davidson, Hannibal attorney, will be the speaker for the 1963 summer commencement to be held at 8 p.m. August 2 at the Rickenbrode Athletic Field.

Governor Cuts NWMSC Funds

A new fine arts building for Northwest Missouri State College is soon to be a reality as it is included in the capital improvements bill which Governor John M. Dalton signed a few days ago.

Although the amount allocated for the fine arts building was reduced from the original request of $2 million to $1,350,000, the new building will be a definite asset to our campus.

Original Request Vetoed

The original request for Northwest Missouri State College included four major items: Fine Arts building, $2,000,000; remodel the library, $750,000; instructional equipment, $78,581; and repairs and renovations, $211,842, or a total of $3,011,842.

In the executive budget which the Governor sent to the General Assembly the following items were included: Remodel the library, $750,000; instructional equipment, $50,000; and repairs and renovations, $100,000, or a total of $900,000 for NWMSC.

The General Assembly later sent to the Governor's desk the following program for capital improvements: Fine arts building, $2,000,000; remodel the library, $500,000; repairs and renovations, $50,000; and instructional equipment, $50,000; totalling $2,600,000.

The Governor reduced the fine arts building appropriations to $1,350,000 and approved the other items as submitted by the General Assembly. (Continued on Page 2)

Mr. Davidson, who is a 1943 graduate of NWMSC, will use as his subject "Birdseed for the Birds." There are 148 candidates for degrees from NWMSC and 16 candidates for masters degrees from the University of Missouri cooperative program with NWMSC.

The speaker received his bachelor of science degree here and in October of 1943 went into the Navy under the V-7 program and attended Michigan's College at Northwestern University, Chicago, Ill. He served on active duty as an officer in the United States Naval Reserves until June of 1946. He was graduated from the University of Missouri School of Law in August of 1949 and was admitted to the bar in February of 1950.

Taught at Skidmore

Mr. Davidson taught one year in the Skidmore Public School System while attending college and later taught one year in the Hannibal Public School System upon graduating from law school. For a few months during 1950 he was an insurance claims representative before being called to active duty in the Korean conflict in November of 1950. He again served as a claims representative after being released to inactive duty in November of 1952 until he entered private practice of law in June of 1953.

Since June of 1954 Mr. Davidson has been representing the City of Hannibal as city councilman in addition to his general practice of law. In June of this year he was selected as U. S. Commissioner for the Eastern District of Missouri.

Maryville Resident

Mr. Davidson's home was originally in Maryville, where his mother still resides. He is married and has two children.

Presently he is a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve, holding the rank of Lt. Commander.

Homer H. Morris Named New Missourian Advisor

Homer H. Morris will be the new advisor for the Northwest Missourian beginning with the 1963 fall semester. Morris will replace present advisor, Donald F. Peel, who will be doing graduate work this fall.

Morris received his AB and MA in English and Journalism at the Kansas State College of Pittsburg, Pittsburg, Kansas. While attending college at Pittsburg, Morris was the editor of the college paper. Morris was a graduate assistant at Pittsburg, before accepting the position at Northwest Missouri State College.

Graduating Seniors

Seniors can pick up caps and gowns Tuesday, July 30 from 2 to 5 in room 101, Ad building, or Friday evening, August 2, from 7 to 7:15.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

A NOTE TO THE GRADUATE

Four years ago when you came to Northwest Missouri State College you had in mind the chief goal of obtaining a degree that would aid you upon your graduation in becoming a successful and productive member of society.

Now you, the graduating senior, are nearing your goal. In your four years at NWMSC you have undoubtedly had some sorrow as well as a great deal of happiness. You have grieved about the cafeteria food, watched the Bearcats lose on the gridiron, complained about those "oh so early" dorm hours. But now that graduation is near the thought of severing your relationships with your college is rather awesome. You've grown to love Northwest Missouri State. It's become a part of you and it's a part that you don't want to lose.

Soon you will be embarking on a new adventure, equally as exciting as your four years in college. But those four years you will never forget. In your nostalgic moments you will think of Northwest Missouri State. And rightly you should, for NWMSC is more than a four year degree mill, it is a school for life. Just as you remember it, it will always remember you—with your help.

You are soon to become an alumni of Northwest Missouri State College. You will be able to join the Northwest Missouri State College Alumni Association for the nominal sum of $2.50 each year. Through this association you can keep in touch with your alma mater. Four times each year you will be sent a news bulletin from the college, and weekly during the school year you will receive a copy of the paper you are now reading.

Just as you hate to leave the college, the college hates to see you go. It wishes you well in every endeavor and wants to keep in contact with you and inform you as to just what is going on at your school.

Northwest Missouri State College has given you an education at a moderate cost, and really has asked little in return. Now that you are graduating you have no particular obligation to your college. But it is YOUR college and you are proud of the fact.

As an alumni here are five things you can do to help Northwest Missouri State College:

1. Support legislative action that will benefit the school;
2. When you can, contribute to the scholarship funds that have helped so many of you;
3. Generously contribute to the several memorial funds;
4. When some one asks you, "Where can I find a good college education at a reasonable cost?" quickly reply, "At Northwest Missouri State College in Maryville.";
5. And when you see an outstanding athletic prospect who you feel could bring beneficial publicity to your school, recommend NWMSC to him and inform the college about him.

Northwest Missouri State College wants to communicate with you after you graduate. But there a communication breakdown when the college isn't made aware of your whereabouts.

There's no reason to end your association with NWMSC just because you are graduating. Let the college know where you are going and it won't forget you.

Before you leave, join the alumni association. There are branches in communities all across the country.

You'll always be a Bearcat at heart, so be a full-fledged Bearcat. Then you and Northwest State will grow together -JG

Be Proud You're A Square

Back in my younger days one of the finest words in our language was "square." You gave a man a square deal if you were honest. And you gave him a square meal when he was hungry. You stood four-square for the right, as you saw it, and square against everything else. When you got out of debt, you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye.

Now everyone knows what a square is. He is the man who never learned to get away with wrongdoing. A Joe who volunteers when he doesn't have to. A guy who gets his kicks from trying to do something better than anyone else can. A boob who gets so lost in his work that he has to be reminded to go home. A fellow who laughs with his belly instead of his upper lip. A slob who still gets choked up when the band plays "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Inquiring Photographer

What was your most rewarding experience as a teacher? This was the question asked by this week's Inquiring Photographer to various teachers who are students themselves this summer.

I. Helen Handley.

"I had my most rewarding experience WHEN a mother told me she thought that I was doing a good job. Her Daughter liked me and did good work. This was my first year of teaching."

II. Robert Ridenoure.

"I have my most rewarding experience every day just seeing what children learn and their appreciation for it."

III. Mrs. Rue Ward.

"I had a boy when I taught in a rural school for all eight grades who later went on to become a head highway engineer. He says that I inspired him in arithmetic to go on to an engineering degree. When he comes home, he never fails to visit me."

IV. Lyn Bollinger

"The special abilities of the students that I've been associated with has been my most rewarding experience. I have worked with gifted children in mathematics."

Gov. Cuts Funds

The reduction in funds for the fine arts building will result in a loss in the seating capacity for the contemplated theater in the fine arts building and recital hall for music. These two will have to be combined into smaller capacity areas.

The reduction of $250,000 from the program to remodel the library presents some serious problems which have not as yet been solved.

The location of the new building, plans for construction, and the probable time construction will get underway will not be known until the Board of Regents has approved the recommendations of the president and the architect.

"The President and the Attorney General have encouraged demonstrations, freedom rides, sit-ins, picketing and actual violation of local laws. Gentlemen, if you pass this civil rights legislation, you are passing it under the threat of mob violence on the part of Negro groups and under various types of intimidation from the executive branch of this government."

Ross Barnett, Governor of the Sovereign State of Mississippi, before the Senate Commerce Committee

FOR ONCE, ROSS BARNETT WAS ALMOST RIGHT.

The President and the Attorney General have encouraged the Negro demonstrations against civil wrongs. The Kennedy brothers are bringing their considerable influence to bear on the members of Congress to get their civil rights measures passed. But Mr. Barnett made a misstatement when he mentioned the threat of mob violence from Negro groups.

The fact that through the leadership of the NAACP, CORE, SNCC, the Urban league, and other organizations of this type, mob violence by Negroes has been kept to a minimum, and certainly no mob violence has been condoned by these groups. The uncontrolled mob violence, of which Mr. Barnett speaks, seems to be more the forte of the white southerners with a certain amount of encouragement from the local police forces.

THE NEGRO ORGANIZATIONS HAVE BEEN ONE OF the most important factors in channeling the massive Negro discontent into nonviolence expressions. They have consistently shown wisdom and restraint and certainly a great deal of strategic skill in maneuvering thousands of Negroes through the quite emotional and volatile fight for their civil rights.

Last week, seven of the major Negro organizations took a major step in consolidating their forces for the final push for Congressional civil rights legislation. The seven joined together in a coordinating council which plans to pool the leadership, membership and finances of the member organization and to coordinate their activities throughout the nation.

If the objectives of this council are carried out it will mark the coming of age of the Negro protest movement. By eliminating the inter-group strife that has sometimes marred the action of the groups acting separately, the Negro leaders will be able to exert considerably more pressure and command considerably more respect.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY HAS REALIZED, AS GOVERNOR Barnett has not, that the demonstrations by Negroes are legal protests against very real wrongs. Certainly the demonstrations are conducted to bring pressure upon government officials. It is not, however, the threat of mob violence, but rather the expression of massive discontent with the status quo and of support for programs which would correct these wrongs. The President has given his support to the August march on Washington by the Negro organizations and has promised to be there to meet the demonstrators.

Such a declaration indicates that the President has come a long way since the early days of his administration and now plans to actively lead in the fight for civil equality and justice. bj

Roberta Hall Interior Being Redecorated

Old on the outside but newer the inside is Roberta Hall, the oldest of the womens dormitories. The remodeling has already begun on the third floor with most of the rooms flowing with fresh new paint. The lounge has had a new white look recently installed and an air-conditioner should be installed shortly. According to Mrs. Thummel, director of Hudson Hall, the new paint is really brightening up the dormitory. Most of the interior should be refinished before September 11, of this year.

Dr. J. W. Jones

Continued from Page 1) Missourian that, "the most significant advancement has been made in the personnel program of our College." Dr. Jones referred specifically to the upgrading of the faculty in quantity, quality, and qualifications.

Another important step in the improvement of the personnel program has been the reorganization of the administration to include a Dean of Instruction and the Chairmen of the Departments among others. This has added both to the efficiency and effectiveness of the NWMSC administration.

During the ten-year period from 1953 to 1963, Dr. Jones has been instrumental in the addition of $15,000,000 worth of physical facilities to the NWMSC campus to accommodate the ever-expanding student population. Enrollment has more than tripled itself since 1953 at which time it was 773. The 1963 enrollment included 2,503 students.

Other achievements spearheaded by President Jones include a retirement program for faculty-supplement to the State Retirement System, improved conditions in the heating plant, renovation of heating and plumbing in the Administration Building and a general improvement of campus roads and parking areas.

Other Activities

In addition to his position as President of Northwest Missouri State College, Dr. Jones is rendering his services to education through the NEA, the Missouri Teachers Association, the Governor's Council on Higher Education, and the Commission on Higher Education created by the 72nd General Assembly, 1963. He is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Rotary Club, and the Masons.

In summary President Jones told the Missourian, "The achievements over the years are due to the interest of the Board of Regents, the administrative staff, the faculty, and the operations and maintenance crew all working together as a team for the best interests of the Northwest Missouri State College." This, he added, "was of greatest importance."

The citizens of the Northwest Missouri area and the many students who have passed through their college years on the NWMSC campus will always be endowed with the fine leadership qualities which Dr. Jones has displayed in bringing Northwest State College to its present position among the many Colleges and Universities across the nation.

Senior Send-Off Held For Nine

Nine women were honored at the traditional Senior Send-off held in the Roberta Hall Main Lounge Monday, July 15. The program started with a modern rhyme presented by the freshmen. Each freshman represented in pantomime a humorous trait of senior personality.

NWMSC Hootenanny

A model Hootenanny was presented by a group of upper-classmen. They entertained the group with take offs of familiar childhood songs, and finished with a rousing interpretation of "When the Seniors Go Marching Out."

Kathy Anderson thrilled the group with her excellent folk singing as she crooned two favorites.

Mrs. Stewart, acting in Mrs. Larsen's place, presented each senior with a silver spoon to remind them of graduation day. Following the program, a tea was enjoyed by the group.

Kathy Miller was the head of the refreshment committee. Mary Frances Olson and Mrs. Stewart ordered the spoons for the seniors. Carol Thomas directed the show, and Margie Thummel the freshmen. Charlotte DeSomma announced the program. Pat Sanders provided background music proceeding and following the entertainment.

The nine graduating senior girls from Roberta Hall are Colleen Faga, Myrna Nikeassa, Donna Rae Larson, Donna Krieger, Pat Tryon, Mary Frances Olson, Marilyn Luhrs, Althea Spillman, Darlene Schmidt.

Horace Mann Jr. Hi. Tours Lincoln, Nebr.

The Junior High of Horace Mann toured Lincoln, Nebraska July 17. Forty-four students and their supervisor Mrs. Pauline Arthur and husband, and eight student teachers: Larry Kimble, Garry Smith, Marvin Broadstone, William Gladstone, L. R. Cowen, Phyllis Ramsbottom, Fern Swanson, and Sharon Nelson made the trip to Lincoln in the college bus.

The group toured the University of Nebraska Planetarium, viewed one of the six structures of the Ceres, the Goddess of Agriculture, which exists in the United States.

Tour Capitol

The group toured the Capitol building of Nebraska and saw the legislature at work. They were also introduced to the governor of Nebraska.

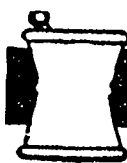

They completed their trip by visiting the state penitentiary where they were shown the trustees' quarters and told of various prison policies.

Physical Exams Due

Can it be that some of the summer students have forgotten their physical exams? Students cannot register until their health records are clear. Also grade credits will be withheld.

Lists of students who have not completed this form are posted in the administration building.

Bearcats To Open At Home With Peru State Club

Since this is the final summer edition of the Missourian, the sports staff wishes to use the opportunity to remind NWMSC students and area fans that the Bearcats will open their fall football season Sept. 14, at home with the Peru State, Neb. Bobcats as the initial opponent.

Peru edged the Bearcats 7-6 last year, scoring the winning touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

The following week, Sept. 21, the Bearcats will again be at home in the friendly confines of Memorial Stadium, this time against Fort Hays, Kas.

The staff urges all 'Cat fans to make advance plans to be in Maryville for the home opener, since it will be two days before school officially opens. The contest will be a non-league affair.

Bench, Not Stars, Power Yankee's Pennant Drive

The New York Yankees, with or without Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, continue to dominate the American League pennant race.

The reason, well known by now, is their bench strength. The Yanks have alternates who could start on many other clubs, plus one of the top reserve flyhawks in the A.L.

The New Yorkers actually have four catchers, Ellie Howard, Yogi Berra, John Blanchard and Harry Bright. Howard and Berra are the regular receivers, Blanchard a reserve outfielder-catcher, and Bright can catch, play first, third or the outfield. All are power swingers, dangerous in the clutch.

Hector Lopez and Jack Reed join Blanchard to form an outfield which compares with many regular groups in the majors. Lopez, formerly a third sacker with the Kansas City A's, has improved with the bat while getting the chance to play regularly a great part of the time while Mantle and Maris are injured.

Reed does not appear in many contests as a pinch-

The Schedule:

| Home Games: | | | |
|----------------------|----------------|------|--|
| Peru | Sept. 14 | 8:00 | |
| Hays | Sept. 21 | 8:00 | |
| Springfield | Oct. 12 | 8:00 | |

swinger but is used as a late inning replacement for Mantle or as a pinch-runner. Reed, on occasion, has shown his ability to hit also.

These are the Yankees who are carrying their club toward another pennant for 1963, not the super stars. These are the men who do not get the attentions of the average fan.

For example, Berra, the veteran receiver, went 9 for 16 with eight RBI's over a stretch last week and practically moved regular catcher Howard to the bench.

These are the Yankees who win pennants, especially this year. They are the ones who deserve the glory. The "Benchmen."

Moe Finally Wins

Moe Drabowsky, Kansas City A's righthander, finally won his first game of the year last week, blanking the Boston Red Sox, 11-0.

Drawbowski followed with a 3-2 win over the Baltimore Orioles, Sunday, for win number 2, against six defeats.

Drabowsky has turned in several fine hurling performances, but has received little offensive support prior to the two winning efforts.

Cat Tales...

— with Marv Bell

Although the 1963 football season is just about one month away practice-wise, the first game of the season is not until Sept. 14, football fever has already struck to a certain extent, both on campus and locally.

The degree of advanced enthusiasm which is already flickering around town and on campus is encouraging, as are actual prospects for the coming season.

Ivan Schottel, formerly head grid mentor at St. Benedicts of Atchison, Kas., will lead the Bearcats this year, with Earl Baker as number one assistant. "Ivan The Terrible," a title given Schottel in his star-studded days at NWMSC, is well known both nationally and in the Mid-West. Schottel's St. Benedicts Ravens won the small college national championship in 1956 and have been in the national ratings a number of times.

Schottel gained added fame after his collegiate days as he starred for the professional Detroit Lions of the NFL. While at NWMSC, Schottel played under present athletic director, Ryland Milner, from 1939 through 1942.

As a Bearcat, Schottel was named All-MIAA in each of his last two years as fullback, and served as captain of the squad his final year. The new 'Cat coach also won a letter for his performances on the basketball court.

Assisting Coach Schottel besides Coach Baker will be Burton Richey and Robert Gregory. Gregory was a teammate of Schottel's at NWMSC, earning All-MIAA honors as a guard and place kicker.

Combined Forces

The combination of returning Bearcat players and ex-St. Benedict rostermen, plus the Schottel-Baker coaching duo, presents a bright picture for the fall sport. Added to this group will be a number of new faces, both transferees and freshmen.

Promising Note

Also of interest is the general attitudes of gridsters attending summer school. One veteran lineman commented that he personally, along with the squad as a whole, are already looking to the home opener with Peru State.

Peru edged Maryville, 7-6, on the Bobcats home grounds last year, starting a string of nine straight setbacks for the season. Avenging that loss is one aim mentioned by the Bearcat players; but perhaps more important is the fact that the 'Cats want to serve notice with the initial game of the season that the NWMSC Bearcats are on the loose.

With the combined team, campus, and community in-cat gridiron fortunes seem certain to do an about face next fall.

The Missourian, on behalf of all Maryville, wishes the fighting Bearcats their best for the coming season.

Staff Bids Farewell

Your campus weekly bids farewell for the summer. This issue will be the last time the Missourian will be published until the fall semester.

Bob Cobb has served as managing editor during the summer session, with Jack Gray as associate editor, Marv Bell, sports editor; Ted Jamison, advertising; photographer, Rob Myers; editorials, Bob Johnson.

Reporters were Owen Eden, Darwin Myer, Ed Roberts, Joyce Campbell, Marie Garten, Judy Hoffman, Eileen Powell, Linda Drummond, and Jurel Jackson.

Donald F. Peel served as Missourian editor.

Schayes Named Coach

Dolph Schayes, 6-8 great for the ex-Syracuse Nationals of the NBA, has accepted an offer to coach the Philadelphia entry in the league for 1963-64.

Schayes played 15 seasons with the Nats, before retiring to the coaching ranks when the Syracuse franchise moved to Philadelphia.
